Oh Mad- am I will buy you a fine silk- en gown, Four and twen- ty yards for to drag- gle on the ground If you will walk_ with me_ with me If you will walk_ with me

1. O Madam I will buy you a fine silken gown
Four and twenty yards for to draggle on the ground
If you will walk with me, with me,
If you will walk with me.
2. I will not accept of your fine silken gown
Nor four and twenty yards for to draggle on the ground
Nor I won't walk with you, with you,
Nor I won't walk with you.
3. O Madam I will buy you a fine coach and pair
For you to ride out to take the fresh air
4. O Madam I will buy you the keys of my chest
For all the gold and silver's kept of the best
5. O Madam I will give you the keys of my heart

We'll get married and never, never part

6. O sir I will accept of you the keys of your heart

And we will get married and never, never part

And I will walk with you, with you

And I will walk with you.
