Jack came down from board a Man of War O, He thought he heard the peo- ple say All in the streets poor Jack must lay- with
? and ? and his good lucky day Wack fol the rid-dle a the did-dle a day

1. Jack came down from board a Man of War O

He thought he heard the people say
All in the streets poor Jack must lay
With ? and ? and his good lucky day
Wack fol the riddle a the diddle a day

2. You tie a string unto your finger

Hang the other end out of the window
I'll come by and pull the string
And you'll come down and let me in

3. Jack says Blest if I don't venture

I'll pull the string that hangs from the window
So Jack went by and pulled the string
And the lady came down and she let Jack in

4. Jack was with his old tarred shirt

And his hands and face all covered with dirt
